Very quick in their responses

I didn't have a lot of contact with the TAs. When I did reach out to them, they were all very responsive and helpful.

Please hold study sessions and office hours when more people can make them.

The TAs are an amalgamation. I still feel they treat us like grad students. But were mid to senior level folks in the non-academic world. When I have tried to explain my thinking to how I answered a problem, if they dont hear anything from the book, they are lost.

He was very responsive in the questions that I asked multiple times on the post-module assignment

I would have liked Apostolos to have an open session during the premodule to clarify the assignment. I thought they did a pretty good job overall.

Apostolos responded to questions in an excellent manner respectively. Their response was timely with attention to details and motivation to learn.
